

How to Save, Plan, and Pay for College is a guide to planning and paying for a child's college education. Mr. Richard W. Lewis, The College Planner, has written his latest book to assist parents and grandparents as they tackle the great task of saving for a college education. He spells out, in plain language, what hurdles are upon parents currently and also what they will need to watch out for in the future as they prepare themselves to have a child in college. This book is for all parents, no matter if your child is a junior in high school or just entering pre-school. Mr. Lewis' down to earth advice will guide parents in accomplishing the task of getting their children in college and graduating without going broke. Each book includes an informative DVD, which includes three sessions that are up close and personal, with the author. He talks directly to parents explaining important points that educate and assist them in their quest to provide for that all important college education. Included in the DVD is a set of tools, including saving and planning spreadsheets to help with the savings that may be needed in the future.
